Hello Tobacco Funding Workshop Participants,

During the conversation with the tobacco industry scientists at the Feb. 23rd meeting in New Orleans on tobacco industry funding of research, Ken Warner (University of Michigan) noted that he had stated in writing what he would require in order to believe that the industry was genuinely interested in the public's health.

Part of Ken Warner's statement (an editorial in the June 2002 American Journal of Public Health) relates directly to the handling of industry research funding. That editorial is attached. Please respond directly to Ken Warner at kwarner@umich.edu with any feedback or thoughts that you may have regarding the attached editorial. He is interested in the reactions of people on both sides of the "fence".

This editorial is one step in continuing the conversation started at the workshop, and the opinions expressed in the editorial are those of Ken Warner only and do not reflect any kind of "conclusion" from the workshop or the opinions of others in the tobacco control field.
